

Electroencephalograph

Your Assignment:

- I. Read about the above topic on the Teaching Treasures Web Site.
 - II. Complete the online science quiz.
 - III. Write a report using the questions below.
1. Where would an electroencephalograph be used on a regular basis?
 2. How does an electroencephalograph work?
 3. Your brain frequency waves decrease when you go to sleep? What is it approximately when asleep and what is it approximately when awake.
 4. Locate more information about an electroencephalograph on the Internet, from library books, encyclopedia or dictionary.
 5. Who invented it?

JUST FOR FUN

How many other words can you make from electroencephalograph
E.g. graph, electron, precept...etc.