a community

Do you know what a community is? A community is a group of people living in the same area. The writer of this worksheet lives in a small town called Greenbushes. She lives in the Greenbushes community. What community do you live in? Do you live in a small town or a large city? Maybe you live on a big farm or station where only you and your family live and maybe some people who work on your farm or station. That would be your community.

Did you know that animals have communities too? Most animals like living together for safety and they like to be together. Have you ever seen a herd of elephants? They like living together. Rabbits like living in their community too. Can you think of two more animals or insects that like living together as a community? Write them in the boxes below.

Bees have a community too. Thousands of bees can live in one beehive. They are very clever and know what their job is. The queen bee lays lots of eggs to make new baby bees. Some bees collect pollen and nectar to make honey for the new baby bees. Some bees are guards to protect the hive. Bees are a very good community and look after each other.

Write a short story about a community. It can be your own community or that of an animal. Try to find pictures to glue on your work to make it look nice. What kind of things are happening in your community? What kind of things happen in an animal's community?
