Computers

Computers are very clever but people are even cleverer. Some people make computers and other people make programmes to use with the computers.

Some people use real hard computer words when they talk about computers. Have you heard about a chip, software, hardware, mouse, modem, CD-ROM, keyboard, monitor, printer, floppy disk drive or motherboard? Can you locate these on a computer in your class?

Find an old magazine that has pictures of computers and pictures of things that have something to do with computers. Cut out the pictures and glue them on a large piece of paper. Write underneath what they are.
